Annual Report: Anti-Ragging Committee - Academic Year 2020-2021

The welfare of students in educational institutions faces a grave threat from the social menace of ragging, which can inflict severe physical and mental harm on individuals. To effectively eradicate this menace, all higher education institutions must adhere to the directives issued by the UGC, AICTE, and the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India. As ragging undermines the dignity of individuals, preventative measures must be aimed at ensuring it does not recur. NIMIT has decided to launch a robust public relations campaign to bolster anti-ragging policies and eradicate this detrimental practice once and for all.

During the academic year 2020-2021, the Anti-Ragging Cell adapted to the online mode for its activities due to the pandemic, COVID 19. Efforts were made to plan and execute activities through online platforms, including the organization of a webinar aimed at raising awareness among second year and final year students. The webinar, conducted on 2/11/2020 at 3:00 pm, featured a resource person, Adv. Bino I Tom, and focused on addressing the issue of ragging. The webinar aims to educate students about the consequences of ragging and reinforce the importance of maintaining a respectful and inclusive campus culture.

Challenges were encountered, particularly regarding the limitation on the number of participants in online sessions. However, the cell remained proactive in its efforts to promote a safe and respectful campus environment, ensuring that anti-ragging measures were effectively communicated to the student community.

We express our gratitude to the faculty and cell members who dedicated their service to the Anti-Ragging Committee throughout the academic year. Their strong dedication greatly aided the Committee's effectiveness.

2. Ms. Shajitha.T.B Associate Professor
3. Mr. John Kizhakuden Associate Professor
4. Dr. Antony George Asst. Professor
5. Mr. Sebastian Poonolly Asst. Professor

The anti-ragging cell of NIMIT remains steadfast in its commitment to spread awareness against ragging and reinforce measures to curb this social evil. Through proactive measures and continuous vigilance, we strive to uphold the values of respect, dignity, and safety within the campus community.
